High Class Shows. Most of the reservations for live stock have been made. The arrival of stock is expected to commence Monday.

Shows at the fair will be of high class order, said Charles S. Putnam of the fair board Saturday. They must all pass the rulings of the state inspector before being permitted to buy space, he said, and every precaution will be taken to keep out shows that might be of a questionable nature.

Modern Necessities

Electric lights are a modern necessity to modern women. They are to be used with a simple press of the finger, without darkness falls. They are accepted as a matter of course.

Gazette want ads should be used just as freely. They serve in countless ways, many times each year. They enable you to get something or to buy something, or to do many other things.

If your name is in the telephone directory or city directory or if you are a Gazette subscriber, you may charge your Gazette "want ad."

NOTED WISCONSIN TURIST IS DEAD

Lingering Illness Fatal to Judge James G. Jenkins, Milwaukee.

For Sale—One D. D. degree, heap, if taken at once. This is the kind of want ad that Rev. J. A. Melrose of the local Presbyterian church might be running today had he not investigated a little after he received several days ago from the operator of a "fast-rich-quick" scheme, but in Denver, Colo. But the Presbyterian pastor was not to be hoodwinked and as a result he probably saved $25.

You have been awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the board of directors of the Central State University of Denver, was the purport of the letter sent to Rev. Mr. Melrose by a man. "Registrar Altman" "Fill out the enclosed personal history blank and send it to us with check for $25 to cover cost of extraneous diploma."

Search of directories containing the names of educational institutions failed to reveal any such school as the "Central State University." Inquiry at Denver, according to Mr. Melrose, showed that "Registrar Altman" has secured a charter for a university, but there is no property, no faculty, no students and not even a printed prospectus.

Presbyterian pastors seem to have been the prey of the scheme, a similar offer having been received by Rev. R. G. Rieman, of the Madison Presbyterian church.

DEMOCRATIC CANNON FOUND DEEP IN MUD AT BOTTOM OF LAKE

Warawau, Ind.—A cannon which was fired as a salute by its owner, "Billy" Binnes, an ardent democrat, celebrating the election of Grover Cleveland as president in 1888, and which since found imbedded in the mud of Center Lake, in which the water is unusually low. It was thought at the time the republican renegade of the house and sunk it in the lake, but the whereabouts of the piece had never been definitely determined.

During the late afternoon, he is expected to go into Portland and call on Mrs. Mary Douglas Hale, widow of the late Senator Hale and mother of Senator Frederick Hale, a member of the Mount Prospect vacation party. The Mayflower will sail about 10 p. m.

STATE TO RETAIN ENGINEER HIRST

Commission Announces Highway Staff Will Stay in Office.

Madison—The state will retain A. R. Hirst, chief highway engineer for the coming year, together with practically all of the principal engineers, official announcement of the highway commission today says. This announcement, signed by W. O. Hotchkiss, secretary, declares further that the failure of the last legislature to pass the highway privilege tax bill means disruption of road work in 1923.

State and county funds are now provided for by law to meet federal aid work to be done in 1922 and 1923, but before the legislature of 1923 can provide further funds the construction season of 1923 will have passed by a man. "Registrar Altman" "Fill out the enclosed personal history blank and send it to us with check for $25 to cover cost of extraneous diploma."

AWAIT CONVENING OF CORONER JURY IN DEMMER CASE

SUSPECT FREED BY HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS.

KOLZE IS BLAMED

Mrs. Demmer Intimates Alleged Victims Committed Suicide.

Chicago.—No further action toward the solution of the mystery surrounding the deaths by poisoning of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kolze and John Demmer is likely until the coroner's jury which held inquest over the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Kolze, is reconvened. It was unlikely the would be questioned further until next week, when her case comes up.

John Demmer died nine years ago, Mrs. Kolze eight years ago and Kolze two weeks ago. Mrs. Demmer, who became his housekeeper after the deaths of Demmer and Mrs. Kolze, admitted her love for Kolze but said she did not poison any of the three.

Friday she asserted that Kolze gave his wife a "white powder" which might have been poison and intimidated Kolze and Demmer had committed suicide, a theory scouted by the authorities.

Racine Bridge Falls; 8 Men Escape Death

Racine.—Eight employees of a Milwaukee wrecking company had narrow escapes from death Saturday morning when the Racine bridge fell into the water. The bridge, which was being repaired, collapsed under the weight of a heavy derrick which was being used to hoist a portion of the turning mechanism on the center abutment. The derrick hooks had been attached to the section and the order given to hoist. As the heavy weight swung clear, the bridge crumpled under the strain. There were four big acetylene tanks on the end of the structure which fell into the water and it is considered remarkable that none of the men were struck by them.

A heavy cart on the west end also crashed down the incline and just missed striking the men.

POSTAGE METER IS INTRODUCED IN N. Y.; NO MORE "CLICKING"

New York.—New York was introduced Saturday the postage meter, making what makes every man his own stamp printer and does away with the necessity of sticking stamps on letters. The National City bank has the one exhibited here.

The machine, recently approved by the postoffice department, operates on a principle similar to that of the government's automatic cancelling machines. To use the meter, the user inserts a square about the size of a stamp in printed in which appear the words "U. S. Postage—paid 2 cents."

The machine is equipped with a register which can be set only by postoffice authorities. When the register shows the user has stamped as many letters as he paid for the machine stops and he is taken to the postoffice to be reset.

DON'T MENTION IT, PLEA OF BURGLARS IN PALATIAL HOME

Paris.—Burglars entered the palatial mansion of Baroness James De Rothschild a few yards from the American passport bureau, Thursday night, but after ransacking the house from top to bottom, left without taking any loot. The house contains a collection of old masters worth several million francs.

Alleged Bandit Kills Self After Fight With Sheriff on Country Road

Aurora, Ill.—James Witt, alias Joelyn, 29, for whom a nation-wide hunt was instituted as the murderer of Chief of Police George Rehm of Chicago, Friday night shot and killed himself after he had been badly wounded in a duel with Sheriff Martin Hextall of Kendall county, on a country road near Yorkville, Ill.

Yorkville is 30 miles from West Chicago and 27 miles from St. Charles, where Witt lived. The time he is alleged to have shot Chief Rehm, it appeared Saturday that Witt had been in this vicinity for two months, while police were combing the west for him. He was supposedly traced to St. Louis about six months ago. A reward of $1,500 was offered for his arrest.

Sheriff Hextall learned Friday night that a man resembling Witt had been employed at an Oswego country garage. He started from Yorkville and on the way met two cars with only spotlights showing. Suspicious, the sheriff gave pursuit. One car turned off a side road but the other, containing Witt, ran into a blind road leading to a creamery.

U. S. GETS LARGE BLOOD CLOT IS RETURN ON TAXES

Costs Less Than Half of One Percent to Collect, Revenue Men Claim.

Popular opinion that government expenses in collecting income and luxury taxes amount to almost as much as the amount collected was upset here Saturday by internal revenue collectors who claim the cost of collecting is less than one-half of one percent of the amount taken in as taxes.

"The statement heard so often that special taxation of the federal government is almost a losing proposition is decidedly absurd and erroneous," declared P. J. Monahan, U. S. collector. "While I have not the figures at hand, we have advised our Washington check on delinquents. They expect to be here another week."

"While the cost of collecting delinquent taxes amounts to about 25 percent, this is all paid out of the extreme end, which is the water. The men were near a heavy derrick which was being used to hoist a portion of the turning mechanism on the center abutment. The derrick hooks had been attached to the section and the order given to hoist. As the heavy weight swung clear, the bridge crumpled under the strain. There were four big acetylene tanks on the end of the structure which fell into the water and it is considered remarkable that none of the men were struck by them.

A heavy cart on the west end also crashed down the incline and just missed striking the men.

OBSTREPEROUS BLIMP TOWED WEEKLY BACK TO NAVAL STATION

New York.—The smallest and lightest blimp the N. Y. was brought ignominiously home to the Rockaway naval air station Saturday after a wild solo flight to Scarsdale, 50 miles away. The return trip was made on a truck.

The N. Y. dumped her crew of three into the marshes of Barron Island Friday, while they were trying to land because of engine trouble, and freed of their weight, bounded off.

A heavy truck set out in pursuit, arriving in Scarsdale to find H. I. had effected a landing and had been thrown and roped by workmen on the farm of Col. Alexander Crane. The crew escaped with slight bruises.

"They Ride Their Own"

The proof of the pudding is in the eating and the two first owners of "World" bicycles secured in the Gazette subscription contest are shown in the accompanying pictures. Kenneth Johnson of the city of Janesville, on the right and William Caple of the city of Brodhead, on the left.

These two boys made an earnest effort and loaded up the twenty-five yearly subscriptions with the aid of the Circulation Department of the Gazette in short order. There are other boys throughout the Gazette district who are pulling away on the work and who have already accumulated a considerable number of the new yearly subscriptions. A new subscription is a person who has not been on the Gazette list for the past sixty days. There is no greater fun for the boy than bicycle riding. There is no more healthful exercise, and the pleasure of getting outside a high grade wheel such as the "World" is great.

The ambitious boy with a fair amount of determination can do the same thing that these two boys have done.

If you have not already joined the race, get into the going at once. Call up the Circulation Department, or come in and see them, or write them a letter, addressing The Circulation Department, Gazette.

See the "World" bicycle either at the Wood Hardware Company or at the Gazette office.

MOORS BALK FLANK ATTACK BY FORCES OF KING ALFONSO

SPANIARDS ENCOUNTER SHARP RESISTANCE IN MOROCCO

REVERSE SERIOUS

Cabinet May Resign as Result of Critical Situation, Is Report.

Madrid.—Spanish forces, landed at La Restinga on the Moroccan coast southeast of Melilla for the purpose of attacking the right wing of the Moorish rebel army, have encountered serious resistance and their advance has been held up.

An official statement Friday night said the Spanish cruiser Catalina is protecting the troops that have been landed. Gourougou and other towns along the northeastern Moroccan coast near Melilla have been blockaded by the Spanish war vessels in that neighborhood.

Little doubt remains that Spain has suffered a serious reverse in Morocco, and that the situation at Melilla threatens becoming critical. Reports persist that the Spanish cabinet may resign and important political conversations already have taken place between King Alfonso and the foremost political leaders of the country.

Broker Shot; Woman Held

Los Angeles.—John J. Kennedy, 25, Los Angeles insurance broker, was shot and killed Friday night as he was entering his summer cottage at Beverly Hills, an exclusive residential suburb. Mrs. Mabel Kennedy, 25, Evanston, Ill., who was with him, was held as a material witness.

Mrs. Oberchman, who is only 20, was carrying a revolver and fired at Kennedy. Kennedy was shot from behind. She said she afterwards saw two men dressed men disappearing from the bushes.

"Our home was really broken up through my love for Mr. Kennedy," she said.

Kennedy long ago, but he could not overcome the objections of his mother who, he said, disliked me. I have known Mr. Kennedy five years and was formerly his secretary. For reason I married Mr. Oberchman. My relations with Mr. Kennedy have always been of the best."

Mrs. Lizzie Bessey, a neighbor, said she heard two shots, followed by the screaming of Mrs. Oberchman. She said she saw an automobile disappearing down the drive near the cottage.

SON SHOTS FATHER AS GARAGE THIEF

Chicago.—Shot by his own son after being caught in the latter's garage carrying away several automobile cushions, early Saturday, Frank Schone lies in a police station cell with a bullet through his hip.

Early Saturday a man pried open a back door with a crowbar, picked up cushions and started away. Young Schone pursued him, firing. When young Schone saw his father, he shot him. The older Schone had been separated from his wife, Robert and three other children lived with the mother.

The father told police he owned part of the garage.

Scores Seek to Aid "Poor Mary"

City Responds Generously to Plea for Orphan Girl, 11 Years Old.

Little Mary will not have long to hope and pray for a comfortable home to escape going to the state school at Sparta.

Generous-hearted Jansville people at once responded to the call.

Miss Anna Leutscher, county nurse, was kept busy last Saturday morning answering telephone calls and inquiries about the 11 year old girl seeking a home.

Everyone seemed anxious to help the girl, adopt her or give her a home.

On giving the farm address where the girl is staying, many went out to see Mary—which happens to be her middle name.

"We want the girl," said the wife of a policeman who had the girl.

"We are going out and take her home," declared another.

More than 20 names were down on the list of applicants.

Of course we want to do some investigating and have the court determine where to place the girl to the best advantage," said Miss Leutscher.

"I think it splendid the way the Jansville people responded to help a poor child."

"I am sure that out of it all the girl will be happy."

So "Mary" out on a farm near Jansville is pending over the number of people who have talked and petted her today.

Nothing but kindness and there have been times when this has not been true when the mother or father of the child refused to take the child.

"I won't have to go to the state school but have a new mamma—I am so happy I can cry," she exclaimed.

And she did—joy.

SOVIET STICKS AT FREE MOVEMENT

Has No Desire to Let Americans See Real Conditions in Russia.

Philadelphia—A Riga correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Ledger

What is considered in London to be the sticking point on the Hoover proposition is that American relief agencies in the Soviet Union are free to move in and out of the country.

If the Soviet Union agrees to this it will greatly surprise highly placed observers in the British government, who have held that if the actual story of Russian conditions were told to the world by observers unimpeded by politics, or fear for loved ones in Russia, or their personal safety, what few friends the Soviet government might have in the outside world would be lost.

A bare glance at the picture of conditions in Russia may be obtained from an incident in London. There arrived here a few days ago a university student, a Russian, who some years ago went into business in Russia and married a Russian woman.

The British government brought him to London, a physical wreck from starvation and mentally overstrained from constant fear of death. When he saw his daughter, who had escaped from Russia a few months ago, the mental strain could not be endured.

He said he had been in the country for a long time and he had seen a lot of things.

GAS RATE HEARING IS SET FOR AUG. 26

All Janesville interested in City's Fight for General Reduction.

Hearing on Janesville's petition for lower gas rates will be held before the railroad commission at Madison at 10 a. m., August 26, according to announcement Saturday of Secretary C. L. Seay, Chicago. All Janesville who wish to be heard in the case, setting of the hearing date is the result of a joint petition filed with the commission 10 days ago by the city, through City Attorney Roger C. Cunningham, and the New Gas Light company, through Suppl. L. P. Wortendyke.

A warm fight looms as the gas company promises to set forth facts and figures to show that its present rates are reasonable and should be maintained. The city on the other hand alleges that the "present rates are in excess of the rates required to make reasonable returns."

Foresters Plan New Rate Fight

Milwaukee.—A new convention, to be called next August, was the compromise finally arrived at by the international convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters Friday night, after a stormy debate on the proposed new constitution. The new constitution for members who joined the order prior to 1912 had lasted the entire day. Abe Landis, secretary for the order, explained new legislation and other conditions which made the change advisable. The new constitution, however, was not accepted and the convention was almost equally divided on the question.

All the old officers were re-elected at the annual election and two new grand masters were elected. The officers are: Thomas H. Cannon, Chicago, high chief ranger; Thomas F. McDonald, Chicago, high secretary; Simeon Viger, Lowell, Mass., high vice chief ranger; Gustave Keller, Dayton, Ohio, high treasurer; Dr. J. P. Smyth, Chicago, high medical examiner; and John E. Stephan, Chicago; Leo J. Weimicki, Chicago; John Herzog, Julius Collier, Thomas Greene, C. E. Olive, Montreal; W. M. Moore, Dubuque, 25 P. M. Toronto; P. E. Callahan, Chicago; and H. T. Attermeier, Milwaukee, high trustees.

Messrs. Callahan and Attermeier are the new members of the board of trustees, the others being all re-elected.

miss that she had prepared or wrote the checks to her to write the name Margaret on them.

"They were given to me to pass and I was told that they were all right—but then, when I wondered if it was right, something overcame me."

Family Lived Here.

Those who have questioned the girl believe one of two things, either she is affected by a mental disease or she has an unusual imagination for a 17-year-old girl.

She is the daughter of August Slotta, a boot sugar factory employee of Billings. The family resided here six years ago and lived on West 6th and Adams street for two years. There are five children with Louise the oldest.

The girl grew tired of Billings and went to Butte, a mining town in Montana, where she remained six weeks, working as a stenographer. She has a business college education, being a typist, able to take shorthand and keep books. She speaks German.

Aftered of Home Town.

"I just wanted to get out of Billings," she explains. "My home life was fairly happy. From Butte I went to Toledo, Ohio, where I was to meet a young man."

Billings, who was wanted to marry me, I refused when I got there and then came to Janesville two weeks ago."

The youthful girl apparently had friends here, although she remained at the Myers hotel and then left to go to Chicago without making payment.

The girl claims the checks were given to her by an acquaintance she knew as "Billy" Richards. And now when in jail she cannot give the address of "Billy."

Arrested on Monday.

Appearance indicates that Miss Slotta has not been used to a life of ease. Her hands indicate hard work. At least she has none of the womanly charm and suaveness of the famous Miss Agnes Burghart, arrested here a number of years ago for leaving a trail of bad checks from Chicago to the Pacific coast and back again, and who spent nine months under the commitment law for obtaining money under false pretenses. She is far less clever than the blonde Detroit girl who looked staidly prisoned in the face, and smiled and got away with it.

Miss Slotta is to be arraigned in the municipal court on Monday.

ADD NEW BUILDINGS AT COUNTY FARM

Having such a large crop of corn this season, the county farm has found it necessary to build a new 20 x 30 corn crib. Superintendent Arlene Galton announced Saturday that the new crib covers 15 acres and each row is eight-tenths of a mile long. The corn will be used to feed the county's hogs at the farm.

A modern hog house, 30 x 75 feet, is being built in the remodeling of the old hog house at the county farm. The county has 125 pure bred Duroc Jerseys. The new hog house will be outfitted with up-to-date steel equipment.

TRINITY CHOR TO GO TO CAMP, MONDAY

The boys' choir of Trinity Episcopal church will leave Monday for Delton, Wis., for their annual camp at Mirror Lake. Eighteen boys are expected to make the trip under the leadership of the church's pastor, Rev. Henry Williams, and a short distance from the Dell of Wisconsin, one of the most picturesque sections of the state.

HOW'D YOU LIKE TO WRAP HER UP AND TAKE HER HOME? SHE'S TINY ACTRESS

Miss Dorothy Orth.

Miss Dorothy Orth is one of the smallest, if not the very tiniest, of all motion picture actresses in the country. She is not lacking in beauty even though she may lack in height and weight. She tips the beam at exactly 87 pounds and that is not without clothes on, because, well, she is not one of the bathing beauties. Miss Orth was a dancer in a Nora Bayes show in Los Angeles when she deserted the stage for the screen.

Slim Returns Greet Many Farmers as Harvest Is Checked Up.

With threshing practically finished in Rock county farmers are checking up on yields and returns which are decidedly unsatisfactory. The hot, dry weather and the black stem rust decreased the yield. The figures on the crop yield for this county were prepared by County Agent R. T. Glasco following an investigation on numerous farms.

Barley yield from 15 to 40 acres, average 20 bushels.

Oats yield from 15 to 36, average 20 bushels.

Rye yield from 15 to 30, average 20 bushels.

When from 10 to 25, average 15 bushels.

With these yields it is claimed the farmer came out on the short end of the harvest, not a gain at all.

Barley is now worth $1.00 per hundred. On an average return of 20 bushels to an acre, an acre of high priced farm land only produced around $15 in cash. After deducting threshing expenses and interest on land to produce the barley, the farmer is without even labor costs. It is claimed.

With a good pair of shoes, costing $8, it will take 16 bushels of barley, the product of half an acre of $200 land, to buy the shoes. It was said. "Even a hair cut costs the farmer another basket of barley and a suit of clothes costs from $5 to 100 bushels."

"After deducting interest, taxes on land and cost of production together with harvesting expenses, there is no barley left or cash to buy high priced manufactured articles, and yet they wonder why the farmer protests about excessive freight rates and low time prices on finished products," said County Agent Glasco. "It is no wonder that the farmer is discouraged."

Members of the Rock county Corn club under the direction of J. K. Arnold, county Y. M. C. A. secretary, will go on their annual tour of inspection Aug. 16 leaving the Janesville Y. M. C. A. building. About 60 boys are expected to make the trip.

There are 125 members of the Corn club organized in various sections of the county. The Madison of three days will cover the entire county. It is Mr. Arnold's plan to have the boys visit a factory and several stock farms.

"These boys do not have an opportunity to go camping, so it is my idea to combine business with pleasure in this trip," said Mr. Arnold.

The trip will be made in cars and camping outfits will be carried in trailers. Boys will take volley balls and their bathing suits.

Trainmen Ready to Vote Sunday on Wage Scale

With the arrival here of strike ballots, it is expected that the Rock River local of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen will poll their vote on the recent wage reduction Sunday. A special meeting of trainmen will be held at Eagles hall at 2:30 p. m.

Double ballots have been received here by the section hands and flagmen. Their ballots take up not only the matter of wages but also of a 40-hour week and half overtime which was denied them under the ruling of the Railroad Labor board effective last July 1.

The wage reduction upon which the men will vote amounts to an average of $15 monthly. Ballots are being sent out to all railroad locals throughout the country. An affirmative vote will mean a 40-hour week, strike effective on or about Sept. 1.

May Out Cars.

While no definite orders have been received here, it is reported in local railroad circles that the express cars on two Chicago & Northwestern trains will be taken off Monday. The trains said to be affected are First No. 507, due here at 4 a. m., from Chicago to Madison and Second No. 516 due here at 8:30 p. m., from Madison to Chicago. If these cars are taken off, they will be handled by the Chicago & Northwestern. The morning train will cause a delay of an hour in the arrival of Chicago morning newspapers.

Commanding Sunday, no track inspector will be employed on the tracks of the Chicago & Northwestern within the city limits. This order will not affect the week-day inspections, however.

A report was current here Saturday that a second cut in wages of section hands will be made by the Chicago & Northwestern. The firmation could not be verified. The cut is rumored as $0.50 monthly per man.

OPERA STAR SUED FOR SEPARATION

Lou Tellegen Seeks Freedom from Geraldine Farrar.

New York.—Geraldine Farrar, the most popular star of the Metropolitan Opera company, has been served with papers in a suit for separation by her actor husband, Lou Tellegen, who came to this country as leading man for Sarah Bernhardt, charges his wife with desertion, according to his attorney, Harry N. Steinfeld.

It was learned that the papers were served on Miss Farrar at her New York home Thursday.

Temperaments Blamed.

From a friend of Mr. Tellegen it was learned that the differences that have brought the couple to an impasse were largely differences of temperament. He described Tellegen as a man of domestic tastes, while Miss Farrar was more occupied with her artistic pursuits.

Mr. Tellegen while on a fishing expedition several days ago, received a letter from Miss Farrar's counsel, Alvin Untermyer. Mr. Tellegen is said to have been advised that Miss Farrar had called to see her lawyer for a conference on her domestic affairs, and that it would be to his interest to see her lawyer also. It was suggested that if he could send an adviser, Mrs. Tellegen will forward your wearing apparel and other possessions.

Visits Home; Despite Warning.

The information contained in the letter from his wife's attorney abruptly caused a halt in the fishing expedition. Mr. Tellegen was said to be the father of his wife's counsel, saying that "under no circumstances are you to approach Mrs. Tellegen's house, or approach her in any manner."

Mr. Tellegen came in directly from Long Beach and went to Mrs. Tellegen's home.

She called to obtain an audience with his wife. It is alleged in the complaint for the reason that the door was locked. Mr. Tellegen then went to see his own lawyer.

SOO REPORTS STUMP IN LAKES FREIGHT FOR MONTH OF JULY

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Freight passing through the American and Canadian canals here during July totaled approximately 1,000,000 tons less than for the same month last year, according to the monthly tonnage report. The traffic east and west bound approximated $12,500 tons.

Passenger traffic showed little change from a year ago, 10,000 persons being carried east and 11,500 west.

The great decrease in freight tonnage was in ore shipments, less than half the amount carried eastward in July, 1920, being hauled last month. The total was 426,760 tons. This, however, was an increase of 1,000,000 tons over June of this year.

Coal, grain and lumber shipments were heavier than a year ago. The increase in lumber shipments was 2,000,000 feet, the total for last month being 38,414,000 feet. The statistics for the year, however, indicate that 1921 will see a still further decrease in lumber traffic which has been falling off, since 1918, when 31,737,000 feet were carried down during July.

Only 2,000 boats looked through, compared to 2,919 for the month last year, 3,020 in 1919 and 3,246 in 1918.

RUSH WORK ON NEW SHIP BOARD BOATS IN CHINESE YARDS

Shanghai.—Work of installing engines and mechanical equipment in the hulls of the steamers Oriental and Cathay is proceeding rapidly and it is believed that before the summer is over these two ships, which are the last of the four built in Shanghai for the U. S. shipping board, will be delivered at San Francisco. The first two of the four vessels are the Handarin and Celestial, which have been completed.

The building of the four vessels, all sister ships of 10,500 tons, is a distinct achievement for Chinese builders and marks a noteworthy advance in the industry of shipbuilding in this country, for they are the largest boats ever built in China. Reports of shipping men to representatives of the American shipping board at Shanghai are that the Handarin, which was delivered some time ago in San Francisco, was held to be one of the best ships of the many constructed for the shipping board.

It is the belief of officers of the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering company, builders of the four vessels, that all four will live up to the standard set by the Handarin.

DEMOCRATS WILL PLAN NEW POLICY

Fight to Regain Control of Congress Will Be Launched Soon.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.
Washington — Chairman George White has decided to call the democratic national committee together some time this autumn for a general discussion of democratic policy toward the Harding administration.

The time of the meeting has not been fixed, but probably will be after the republicans have passed a new tax bill and the country has had a chance to learn definitely what has been done by the republican party on tax revision.

Thus far the democrats have maintained a policy of passive resistance to republican doctrines, believing that the country wanted to give the new administration a fair chance to make good without democratic obstruction.

When the tariff and tax bills are passed, however, the democrats, who already take exception to the republican proposals, will endeavor to convince the country that those policies are wrong and can be corrected only by the election of a democratic congress a year hence. President Taft lost congress immediately after the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and the republicans are now abusing their hopes, however, not so much on the tariff, but on taxes.

The democratic line of attack already is apparent.

Not Yet Adopted.
The democrats say Secretary Mellon's proposals mean merely that people whose incomes are below $3,000 a year will be taxed higher than before while those with incomes above $10,000 will have their taxes reduced.

Of course, Secretary Mellon's suggestions have not yet been adopted and the republicans in congress may yet deprive the democrats of much of their ammunition. The democrats admit that the republicans can reduce taxes if they want to, but only by adopting the scheme of Representative Fordney, chairman of the ways and means committee, who is credited with the idea of cutting taxes radically and leaving the government with a deficit to be made up after the congressional elections have been held next year.

This is in line with the theory that the tax burden should be distributed over a period of years so that future generations may bear a large part of the cost of the war.

This policy, however, is opposed by republican economists in the executive branch of the government, who think the government's borrowing power would be adversely affected by such a plan.

Will See Strenuous Fight.
The country will see strenuous political lineups before the end of the present session of congress. Many western republicans do not like the idea of repealing the excess profits taxes.

Several democrats will find it necessary to vote for the republican tax and tariff bills, while a good number of republicans whose constituents will have been hard hit by the tariff or tax measures will vote against their party.

But broadly speaking, the democratic party will range itself against the Fordney tariff measure, the revenue law and base its whole attack on them in the next congressional elections. It is too early to know what the democrats will do about the peace treaty situation. They are waiting to see what formula is brought forth by the Harding administration.

The other day, however, Senator Harrison (Democrat) of Mississippi fired the opening gun by inquiring vainly from the republicans as to whether or not America was at peace with Germany. The democrats for the most part are silent, however, while Secretary Hughes conducts his secret negotiations with Germany and the allies.

The democrats unquestionably still decline to accept the Hughes formula, when submitted, on much the same grounds as were adopted by the republicans against Wilson. The democrats are already beginning to say that the treaty with Germany is not being arrived at very openly, and that when the treaty is finally submitted they will not swallow it without the crossing of a "u" or the dotting of an "i".

Try Versailles Treaty.
Instead, they will endeavor to attack the Versailles pact with the league of nations covenant, and when that is voted down they will offer the Versailles treaty with the league of nations covenant and call for a vote, in an effort to place the republicans on record as having reversed themselves on foreign policy.

The democrats are already beginning to say that the treaty with Germany is not being arrived at very openly, and that when the treaty is finally submitted they will not swallow it without the crossing of a "u" or the dotting of an "i".

Exercise, Not Beauty Lotions, Won These Dainty Girls Fame

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington—That physical education produces beauty as well as brawn is illustrated in a recent statement to the effect that out of 140 applicants for positions in a well-known motion picture organization which emphasizes physical development, it is said that 131 had practiced daily setting-up exercises for at least a year, and that more than half the number had consistently kept up some kind of outdoor sport.

Students of the trend of race development say they note hopeful signs of a marked tendency toward physical development which in the end they believe will produce not only a stronger but a more beautiful race. There are more young women swimmers today than ever before and statistics show there are more young women in athletics than was ever known.

Teachers of dancing—not jazz—insist that the freedom of the body necessary to produce rhythmic motion is serving as an incentive to better physical development of girls. Figures show that the younger generation is coming in its sports of fudge, jazz dancing and late hours, is improving in physical development.

A bill now pending in congress proposes that the federal government assist the states in establishing physical education in all the schools of the United States. It is the contention of those supporting the bill that it is high time the United States should begin to train its children physically, not only for stronger young men, but for better mothers.

The physical education bill has brought to its support such men and women as Gen. Pershing, Walter Camp, Dr. Charles W. Eliot, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, Dr. J. E. Raycroft, James E. West, Mrs. Frederick Schoff, Mrs. Ella Ashby West, Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin, ex-Gov. Grunbaum of Pennsylvania, Senator Arthur Capper, Congressman Simeon D. Fess, and others prominent in organization and educational circles.

Try Versailles Treaty.
Instead, they will endeavor to attack the Versailles pact with the league of nations covenant, and when that is voted down they will offer the Versailles treaty with the league of nations covenant and call for a vote, in an effort to place the republicans on record as having reversed themselves on foreign policy.

The democrats are already beginning to say that the treaty with Germany is not being arrived at very openly, and that when the treaty is finally submitted they will not swallow it without the crossing of a "u" or the dotting of an "i".

KLEATH

The defense was feeble and halting, but not without convincing points. Loomis closed rather dramatically in those words:

"Gentlemen, who can say that the prisoner whose defense has been entrusted to my inexperienced advocacy, is positively guilty? Look at the prisoner, gentlemen! Is he the type of man who would commit a crime which he has not committed upon his own shoulders? Instead of attacking a weaker person to suffer, I, your gentlemen, that you give these points due consideration before making your verdict. The influence of Loomis' plea, his lordship's charge was unusually harsh and stern. The jury did not even leave the room. The foreman rose.

"Have you reached a verdict, gentlemen?"

"We have."

"What is your verdict?"

"A woman's sharp cry split the silence like the report of a gun. 'Fools,' she shrieked, 'you are condemning an innocent man!'"

Goldie's protest, which followed the verdict of the jury was drowned in the tumult and confusion.

"No, no! He is not guilty! Let me speak!" she cried, frantically, but even Loomis, standing at her side, had not caught the words. His lordship leaned far over his desk and searched the throne of wildly excited people for the speaker.

Kleath, for a moment forgotten, leaped up between the two warders and snatched down upon the frenzied scene with horror written plainly upon his blanched face.

"Duke slipped his hand into the pocket of his coat and wiggled toward the open window. Haynes, his back against the wall, glared at him with burning eyes, like an animal that bay. The judge signaled a woman to approach, evidently thinking her to be the one who had cried out.

"She slouched forward, smeared with hanging lips across the cover of the book, and took the stand. With a start Goldie recognized her as the same woman she had encountered the morning after her imprisonment in the road house, the one whose inexpressible look of hatred had so frightened her.

The witness did not look at Kleath; she turned her back upon the court and stood silent a moment, sweeping the scene of upturned faces with a glance from which two men quailed. Any pretensions she may have had to beauty had long since disappeared.

"My name is Nell Kleath," she said, huskily. "I am Chris Kleath's wife."

"What's that?" asked the judge, bending forward.

"I am Chris Kleath's wife," repeated the woman, "and just out of the pen six months before my time-for good conduct."

She paused and looked defiantly toward the spot where Duke stood.

"I was known in the profession as 'Sassie Nell.' Three of us worked in a team—Cully Conrad, Joe Leroy, sometimes called the Duke, and myself. Cully and I did the dirty work. Cully used lead pipe when it was necessary and I worked at the combinations. Joe distributed the long green. He always got away with it without a hint of suspicion."

"I met Chris in Chicago," she said, "and he was sent on from New York as superintendent of the works. Only a kid he was too, but he knew the business from start to finish. I saw he was a smart one to me and—well, I married him. He knew nothing about the team."

"After I married Chris, it was easy to work. I could always find out where our safes had been sold, then Cully and I went on and flopped them. I used to tell Chris I was visiting some relative or other."

"One day we shipped a safe to a big-lumber concern in Cincinnati, and the boys went to find out when it would be full of cash pending the payment of their employees. They went a mile and I went on to visit an old aunt."

"We were caught red-handed, Cully and I. We were tried and convicted before we could turn around—ten years' sentence. Joe Leroy, the skunk, helped to send us up and saved his own hide—damn him!"

She cursed like a man and dealt the severe rap of the judge.

"I thought it was funny Chris didn't show up at the trial, Chris, you see," she glanced at the docket for the first time and looked quickly away—"was a sort of extraordinary fellow, and I kind of expected him to come!"

THE GIRL WHO HAD NOCHANCE

By Marion Rubineam

CHAPTER CII.
STRUGGLE

All through the dark hours Ruth went over and over the problem. As Gaby had said, the fact that she was married might not prevent another being in love. Tim was married, and fight as she would, she knew that all this time she had still cared for him. Along with she was sure he cared for her, and not for her. At least she had the satisfaction of knowing Tim was happy—even though she naturally felt he would be happier with her.

And now it seemed that Tim was in love with her—either he had never gotten over the old affection, or else it had come to life again when he saw her.

And what should she do now? For this was infinitely worse than before. Yet she gloried a little in the fact that she was no longer a penniless orphan, but a girl with a home, with a father, with a mother, with a brother, with a sister, with a family, with a life.

Gaby's first remark after Ruth had given her the whole story next day was:

"Well, I thought that might happen!"

"You did?" Ruth exclaimed in the greatest astonishment.

"Because I had had that effect on me the other time you were here, when he was engaged to Myra."

"How did you know he kissed me then?" Ruth looked up at Gaby.

"For the first time in my life, I saw the doorway of the cheap little boarding-house had been looked up in her breast ever since."

Gaby laughed, leaning back on the chair and looking at Ruth with kindly amusement.

"What a dear innocent baby you are, in spite of your large salary and your model factory town," she said. "I didn't know that, Ruth!—you never told. But I did know that he started to fall in love with you all over again, and he was only engaged to Myra then."

"Now, when you're married, the struggle to be faithful, even in his thoughts, would be much stronger, because Tim is really the best man in the world in his interesting Myra. But you are much prettier than you were, you have everything in your favor now."

"Don't you see?" she went on, "when you came here before you were tired, unhappy, overworked, worried, and poor and shabby, that's reached the end of the sheds he had eaten enough corn, wheat, oats, hay, and when he got to the door he saw the carrots to feed two goats, and he was so full, he could scarcely walk."

"I think we had both better take a nap so as to be well rested for the race this afternoon," she said, and lay down. Nannie did likewise, but could not go to sleep, as Billy had apparently done. She lay teasing her head at the window, and then she saw Billy there, who would never drop into a doze, as he watched her with a sly eye, but at last she gave a little yawn and then he cautiously got up, walked slowly to the door and passed out through a big crack. He could see flags waving, people passing and bands playing. He made up his mind that which should he do to get sight of her. He went to the door, but down the rickety old door, which would make a terrible racket and probably awaken Nannie, or take his chance of getting into the house, he decided upon the latter, as it was not far from the ground. So he braced himself well for the jump, took a quick little run, and went through the window as clear as a bird and without awakening the sleeping Nannie. He wandered along the back of the fat shaggy dog, and there he saw a kind of a trip they had had come to the fair, and while he talked he sampled all the different kinds of food the farmers had brought with them for their stock, so that by the time he

GAS BUGGIES—DID IT EVER HAPPEN TO YOU?

WHEN A MAN'S MARRIED

Today's Short Story

By GEORGE T. BYE

Illustrations by WILLIAM STEVENS

When it Rains, it Clears Up.

De as cheerful as you liked, introduced whatever subject he pleased, and Mrs. Griggs would be sure to get a bitter laugh or shudder from what you said. She was inordinately suspicious of her husband's motives, and she would make it her first duty to let them know they were not trusted. She announced a creed that generosity was immoral, even among neighbors, and she let it be known that her worst fear was that a supposed friend should get the better of her. When she had her lawn mowed, a note-wisp of the bordering grass was to be cut. A family that once dared to borrow sugar from her was informed of the actual weight of the amount and asked to remit four cents! All lawyers were crooks, and she never tired of telling of the ex-emption of $100 on legal fees from her when her late husband's will was probated. Doctors were no better than common thieves, thank heavens, she thought, for she had seen a doctor who had been found with a pocketbook full of money. Automobiles were death traps. Summer resorts were malaria resorts. Children were little devils.

It is hard to ostracize a neighbor in a friendly block. The old crank, as Mrs. Griggs was mildly called, continued to spread her sour message of distrust, until her two immediate neighbors accidentally discovered that she had been venomously criticizing one to the other. Then, precipitately, her world of gloom closed around herself alone. No one quailed, and she was shunned wherever she appeared.

She accepted the verdict lily by remaining at home, even keeping within doors. When she closed up the lower part of her house, it would not be known that a recluse lived there but for the daily traffic in milk on the back porch. The neighbors felt sympathy for her in her wretched segregation. When two days' milk had collected on Mrs. Griggs' kitchen porch, the sympathy grew into alarm. Then it was that the neighbors rang her bell and called to her without response, and Mr. Allen carried over.

Zetty, my dear friend, what is troubling you? "Where in the world did you come from?" "And may I ask, how under the canopy you got here?" asked the butler. "I am glad to see you, now that you got here, for I have often thought of you and wondered if you were still in the land of the living."

"And I am more than glad to see you, for I have often wondered if you were still with the circus," if "I was still six months ago," answered the butler, and then I was injured and they left me here with a broken leg, thinking that I would never again be any good to perform, but a kind farmer took me home, called in a surgeon who set my leg and after having it in splints and bandages and rubbed with a strong liniment, it got well in short order, so here I am just as well as ever."

BEAUTY CHATS

by Edna Kent Forbes

ANSWERED LETTERS

Mrs. E. I.—All hair dyes injure the quality of the hair. Some hair is so strong that it does not show the deterioration for a long time. Henna is not a dye and will produce an auburn shade. If you think that will be becoming, you will also find it a tonic and you can do it yourself, but if you feel you must have your hair dyed, go to some one in the profession to have it done.

J. S.—Olive oil is excellent for gaining weight. You can obtain the formula containing the files in the office of the newspaper.

March.—Your weight is correct and your figure will improve as you complete your growth.

Hazel and H. C.—Curling the hair over anything that is not harsh or heated cannot injure it. Hair on the face can be pulled out by using the tweezers, or destroyed by electric needle treatment.

Rose R.—You are 20 pounds underweight. Your hair is beautiful, why should you want to change even the shade? You have an opportunity for color combination which will individualize your type. If you try to darken your hair you will lose this chance, making yourself look like everybody else.

Mayfair.—There is an operation for straightening the legs, but no one would undertake it unless it were for professional reasons. Wear your skirts longer and hide the defect.

Kate.—You should consult the doctor to get your hair set. Wear a hair net which will flatten the way hair, so it will be more becoming.

Tiny.—Warts will dry and drop off.

A. C.—Styes are caused by a run down condition of the blood. Consult your doctor.

Smiles.—Massage the ankles with a strong solution of Epsom salts or sea salt.

A. G. H.—The cornstarch in the blackhead formula is the same as that used in cooking.

"Troubled."—Cancer is a malignant growth and you had nothing to do with your friend developing it. Probably was in such poor health that she worried because of that, and not what you said to her. Do not accuse yourself ever again and if the memory of it should trouble you, you can counteract it by performing a kind deed for someone else.

High School Girls.—If your mother approves of the boys, there is no reason why you should not go to a matinee with them. Of course she should know all about it.

Massage your scalp—each night until you feel the blood circulation. This will develop a healthy condition.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man about three years my senior for over two years. During this time he has gone with different girls and I have gone with some other boys.

This young man seems to have a jealous disposition, because he gets into a rage when I go with another fellow, but he thinks it ought to be all right for him to go with other girls once in a while.

He has always treated me with the highest respect, taking me wherever I desired to go. When he went with other girls he only called at their homes or took them riding.

At the time he comes to see me and takes me away at least three or four times a week. Do you think he really loves me?

SWEETIE.

The man likes you deeply. If he were really in love with you he would not be interested in any one else.

The Peasant War

Revelations of Conditions in the Interior of Russia Never Before Told—How the Farmers Fought the Soviet.

The fight of the Russian peasants to overthrow the communist-bolshevik is dramatically described in an article printed in the "Volia Russii" (The Will of Russia).

This paper noted as one unafraid to tell the cold blooded truth, is published daily in Prague, Czechoslovakia, by a group of leaders of the party of socialist-revolutionists, under the editorship of V. M. Zenzlov, V. I. Lebedev and O. S. Minor.

The revolt in the province of Tamboff, as described in the article, is a typical peasant revolt against the bolshevik rule. Translation from the story from the "Volia Russii" has reached the Gazette and is as follows:

Revolt Flares Up
Rebellious sentiment has been smoldering for a long time in the Tamboff plains, having been enkindled by the military expeditions coming into power of the soviet rule. From time to time this sentiment breaks into open flame, and then the bells of the villages are tolling ominously across the desolate multitudes of insurgent peasants are gathering, railway tracks are taken apart, the habitual commissaries disappear from the villages, and not a trace remains of the communist nucleus. This is followed by the arrival of troops, and then savage vengeance is meted out to the rebels. The so-called "Peasants' government" moves forward, and the peasants are gathered, and the village is burned by fire and sword the very thought of a genuine peasant government.

During the Tamboff rebellion, the peasants once more harness themselves to the bolshevik yoke and watch silently the bolshevik officials returning to the village and making themselves comfortable on the broad backs of the peasantry.

Then again there comes an end to the patience of the Tamboff peasants, and again the village bells are heard tolling in the distance. This story has been repeating itself every year since 1913. And only the village cemetery knows how many gray and blond heads have been laid down in their struggle for freedom.

In Open Rebellion
In the fall of 1920 the Tamboff peasantry once more revolted and attacked the soviet authorities with clubs and pitchforks. Ever since there has been a state of open rebellion, and now subsiding, now flaring up again in full force, the struggle has been going on continuously, being carried on by partisan detachments scattered broadcast and disappearing from view entirely if to greatly outnumbered.

In common with other revolutionary organizations, the party of socialist-revolutionists organized in the spring of 1920 the Tamboff Peasants' Union, which, covering the entire Tamboff district with a network of branches. The union had not yet fully succeeded in organizing the whole peasantry when, quite unexpectedly for its leaders, a spontaneous peasant insurrection broke out in the south of the Tamboff district. This movement started on the 12th of August in the village of Kamenka at the very moment when a largely attended district convention of the peasantry was being held at a place about 10 miles distant from the city of Tamboff.

Grain Requisitioned
The occasion for that particular uprising among the peasants of Kamenka was furnished by the requisitioning detachment which began to collect additional levies of grain. Seven members of the detachment were killed by the peasants, and the village then realized that it would not escape bolshevik retaliation. Thereupon a peasant staff was hastily organized, trenches were dug, and the village prepared under the leadership of the local branch of the Peasants' union to repel the punitive expedition of the bolsheviks. The latter was not slow in making its appearance. Soon there appeared 20 cavalrymen from the direction of the Sampo railway station. A brief fusillade of shots was exchanged, as a result of which the punitive expedition was beaten and fled. This first expedition was followed by a second and third one, with increasing number of soldiers, but these, too, were routed by the peasants.

Secret Meeting in the Night
Learning of the happenings at Kamenka, the regional committee of the Peasants' union, whose headquarters was at the village of Khitrovo, held a meeting of its members during the night in a barn, to decide upon the attitude to be taken with respect to the Kamenka events. Although the meeting voted to abstain from rendering assistance to the peasants, it had not yet managed to leave the barn when they found themselves surrounded on all sides by a detachment of about 30 cavalrymen which galloped in to the scene. Thanks to the darkness, most of the members succeeded in making their escape, but three of the peasants were held and driven away from the road toward Khitrovo under the convoy of the detachment. The villagers of Khitrovo then decided to free the prisoners by force, and in the morning they started out in pursuit of the soldiers. They surrounded the detachment, decimated it and freed the prisoners. The remnant of the detachment was captured, while several of the soldiers, who turned out to be communists, were killed by the peasants. In this manner the peasants of Khitrovo were also, against their own will, drawn into the sanguinary strife that had commenced in Kamenka.

Rebel Spirit Spreads
The ensuing events came about with amazing swiftness. For the suppression of the insurrection there were dispatched from the Sampo station and from Tamboff, one after another, several detachments of the "Vokhra" (special police force for breaking up into small, elusive detachments.

Assumes Offensive
However, at first Antonoff, too, succeeded in gathering about him, rather formidable forces, which enabled him from time to time to assume the offensive. His first appearance he made among the rebels in the beginning of September. He discharged all poorly armed insurgents, retaining only those who had either guns or rifles. Of these he formed a small detachment of horse and infantry.

Who Is Antonoff?
Wholesale lootings and fires concluded the first period of the Tamboff peasant insurrection. That period was one of spontaneous, unorganized mass risings, without any plan or leadership. The second period commences from the moment when Antonoff takes over the leadership of the defeated insurgents.

Antonoff took part in the Revolution of 1915, while still a youth, and was imprisoned by the Tsar's government for it. He spent 12 years at hard labor, and only the Revolution of 1917 opened the prison doors for him. Returning to his native city of Tamboff, he was appointed chief of militia of the Kirsanoff district of Tamboff province under the provisional government, which lasted only a few days.

As for the punitive expeditions following in the wake of the Antonoff partisan bands, they show but little inclination to fight against armed peasants. Almost every detachment of the Red army sent out to "pacify" the peasants gradually dwindles down by deserting on the way over to the Tamboff plains. Thus, out of two trainloads of troops dispatched from Gorky to the station of Mordovo with orders to recapture the sugar refinery, there arrived at the final destination only 50 soldiers.

Villages Burned Down
The insurgents, on the other hand, are coping with energy and precision, delivering shot by shot, blowing. Recently they succeeded in capturing at the village of Izhevsk the whole itinerant staff of the Tamboff extraordinary commission in the act of making the circuit of the district in company with a detachment of executioners, and they dealt with them most severely.

Among particularly dramatic incidents of this insurrection the following deserves to be mentioned: Peasants Open Fire.
Towards the village of Yermolovka in the district of Usman, just abandoned by Antonoff's men, a government detachment of several hundred soldiers is making its way. Outside of the village, in the open field, they are met by five aged peasants who commence calmly and point-blank to shoot at them. Finally the peasants are surrounded and captured.

"Have you, idiots, gone mad altogether?" they are asked. "What made you shoot?"

"It's the chaff we were defending," answered the old fellows. "Our grain has been taken away from us, but we are not going to give up our chaff, too!"

"The peasants were led away, and nothing could be learned about their fate."

Peasants Have Statutes.
In conclusion, we shall quote a most interesting document which goes to show the sentiments of the insurgents. It is entitled "Statutes of the Tamboff Provincial Peasants' Union." The document does not show great political skill in its composition. It is written in plain and unpolished peasant language, which only tends to enhance its intrinsic value as the true voice of the peasantry.

Program of Peasants' Union.
The Peasants' union regards it as its foremost task to overthrow the rule of the communist-bolshevik who have brought the country to a state of destitution, disgrace and ruin. For the purpose of destroying this oppressive power and its system, the union, by forming volunteer partisan detachments, is carrying on an armed struggle, with the following objects in view:

1) Political equality of all citizens, without class distinctions, except the house of the Romanoffs.

2) Convocation of the constituent assembly on a basis of universal, direct, equal and secret ballot, without pre-determining its act in the matter of choosing and establishing a political system, and with the right for the voters to recall representatives who fail to express the will of the people.

3) Pending the convocation of the constituent assembly, temporary local and central authorities are to be set up on an elective basis by associations and parties which are taking part in the struggle against the communists.

4) Committed, either in original text or through error in setting up the newspaper issue.)

5) Freedom of speech, conscience, press, associations and assembly.

6) Carrying out in real life the provisions of the law on the socialization of the land, adopted and confirmed by the former constituent assembly.

7) Supplying with articles of prime necessity, with food in the very first place, the inhabitants of town and country through the medium of the co-operative societies.

8) Regulation of wages and prices of commodities manufactured by factories and mills which are operated by the state.

9) Partial denationalization of factories and mills. Essential industrialization of the land, adopted and confirmed by the former constituent assembly.

Literally millions of hungry people are pouring out of the famine-stricken districts of Russia. They are moving westward in the direction of Poland, and the Poles, who themselves have not enough to eat, fear another invasion. General Budenny is reported to be in White Russia with 60,000 men. Rumania, where crops are good, is fearful of being overrun by hordes of the hunger-stricken.

Webster School Wins City Net Championship in Doubles

PESCHL-CLARK DUO VANQUISHES JEFF RACKET WIELDERS

Exhibiting good team work and placements in all ways where their opponents could not reach the ball to make the return, Frank Peschl and Ed. Clark playing for the Webster school defeated K. and S. Persson, racket wielders of the Jefferson school, for the junior singles tennis championship 6-4. The match played on the Y. M. C. A. brought out a crowd of supporters. The Persson brothers, started to rally with the game score standing 1-5 but the odds were too great.

The winners were given flashlights and the runners-up pocketknives as prizes through the courtesy of the Sheldon Hardware Company.

Ed. Clark, representing the Webster will play K. Persson next Tuesday for the junior singles championship.

Some difficulty has been experienced in the senior division. The doubles team representing the Washington school failed to make their appearance at the Y. M. C. A. court Thursday for the match with the Jefferson school. Jefferson will play the Webster in the finals.

HOPPE WILL CONTINUE TOURNAMENT BILLIARDS
New York.—Willie Hoppe, world's champion billiardist does not intend to withdraw from tournament competition. It has been announced in explanation of his future matches for the title would be played on a winner-take-all basis.

"High Jackers" Make Business of Robbing Farm Hands in Wheat Belt.

Kansas City, Mo. — Bandits termed "high jackers," who are making a business of robbing freight trains in the wheat belt of Kansas, are becoming more bold and are receiving increasing attention from authorities according to reports today.

"High jacker" activities, which have been reported almost daily throughout the harvest season, reached a climax Wednesday night when two of the robbers attempted to hold up a party of former soldiers and harvest hands aboard a freight train running between Kechi and Fortley, Kansas. The former soldiers, just discharged from a Texas army camp, began shooting and in the exchange of shots one man, said to be a "high jacker," was killed and four of the former soldiers and one of the harvest hands were injured. The remaining robber escaped after a terrible fight, in which he threw half a dozen of his opponents from the moving train.

With the number of complaints from victims of the robbers growing, officials of several smaller Kansas towns were reporting murders in investigating mysterious killings in the "high jackers" may have committed them. There have been five or more unexplained killings in the Kansas wheat belt in the last month, the victims for the most part having been supposed harvest hands.

Special efforts are being made in all of the wheat belt towns, it was said, to ascertain whether the "high jackers" operations are the work of an organized gang or whether the men are individual criminals who have left the city for the harvest fields, knowing that the harvest hands are mostly transients and that a majority of them will carry money.

The "high jackers," according to descriptions of their activities received here, usually operate in pairs. They go among groups of harvest hands and pose as fellow workers. They learn which of their associates carries the most money and at an opportune moment hold him up. If he resists, he is strangled and beaten.

MILK COMPANIES
IN 36 PCT. PROFIT

Market Division Figures Announced Following Investigation.

Madison. — A net profit of 36.3 per cent was made by seven large representative milk companies in Milwaukee, Madison, Racine, Eau Claire and Kenosha, during the last year, the report of Nelson C. Hall, accountant for the department of markets, shows. Investigation of the seven companies brought out that they sold milk aggregating $11,722,411, with a net profit before deducting income taxes of $513,152, and after, of $250,084.

The average retail price charged to the consumer during the year was 12.47 cents a quart. If this price had been one-half cent less, the returns to the companies would have been reduced to a point where five of them would have made profits ranging from 8 to 132 per cent, while two would have lost from 5 to 27 per cent.

Out Mount Losses.
A reduction of 1 per cent a quart would have driven every dealer but two into loss, the report shows. Returns under a 1 cent reduction would have given those two companies 13.3 and 8 per cent profit, while causing losses ranging from 8.8 per cent to 80 per cent.

Net profit shown on each quart of milk was 55-100 of a cent, which was reduced by income tax to 38-100 of a cent.

Milwaukee milk dealers are now paying $1.77 per 8 gallon can against $1.30 paid to farmers for the last several months. This has caused a rise in price in Milwaukee of 1 cent per quart. The price is higher in the smaller cities.

Year Profitable.
Out of the retail price of 12.47 cents per quart, the amount received by the farmer was 7.14 cents, which led the department of markets to comment that a 10-cent raise could have been granted farmers on each 100 pounds of milk without causing loss to the companies. Profits would have ranged from 42.5 per cent to a loss of 2 per cent for one company, all others earning more than 5 per cent.

A 20-cent raise to farmers would have caused loss to two companies. Returns then would have ranged from a 33.3 per cent profit to a loss of 30 per cent.

Items making up the retail price were: 7.14 to the farmer for milk; 1.61 cents for other materials; 1.26 cents for plant expense; 1.41 cents to delivery expense; .47 of a cent to general expense; .13 to non-operating expense; .27 to income taxes and 38 net profit to the dealer after all expenses and taxes.

The last year was said to have been unusually profitable for milk companies.

American Legion

While the summer months are dull with American Legion posts throughout the county so far as attendance is concerned, the executive committee of Janesville, Beloit and other posts are getting together with regularity and planning for the coming winter months. Rock county in the past has been somewhat scattered as to a working harmony between the posts, but this is being gradually eliminated with a greater knitting of the aims.

This object will be carried out in larger degree than ever in a giant county picnic of legionnaires which is being planned for the latter part of this month or the early part of September. The idea was broached by the Janesville executive committee and is taking a firm hold with the other posts. This outing will probably be held at West park, on the Rock river. Janesville and Beloit committees are now at work arranging the details. An announcement is expected within the near future.

With the 1922 state American Legion convention to be held in Beloit, every effort is being made by Janesville, Orfordville, Milton, Edgerton, and Evansville to join hands with the Gateway city men to help make the Badger gathering a great success. That is the one purpose of the county picnic.

The Famous Samson Model 'M' Tractor

AT A NEW PRICE

SAMSON MODEL "M" TRACTOR

A Time Tried and Proven Tractor at a New Price

The Samson Tractor Company realize prices must be brought back to normal at once and a tremendous loss taken, or business conditions would never improve. They realized that there is only one way to stimulate business for you and for us.

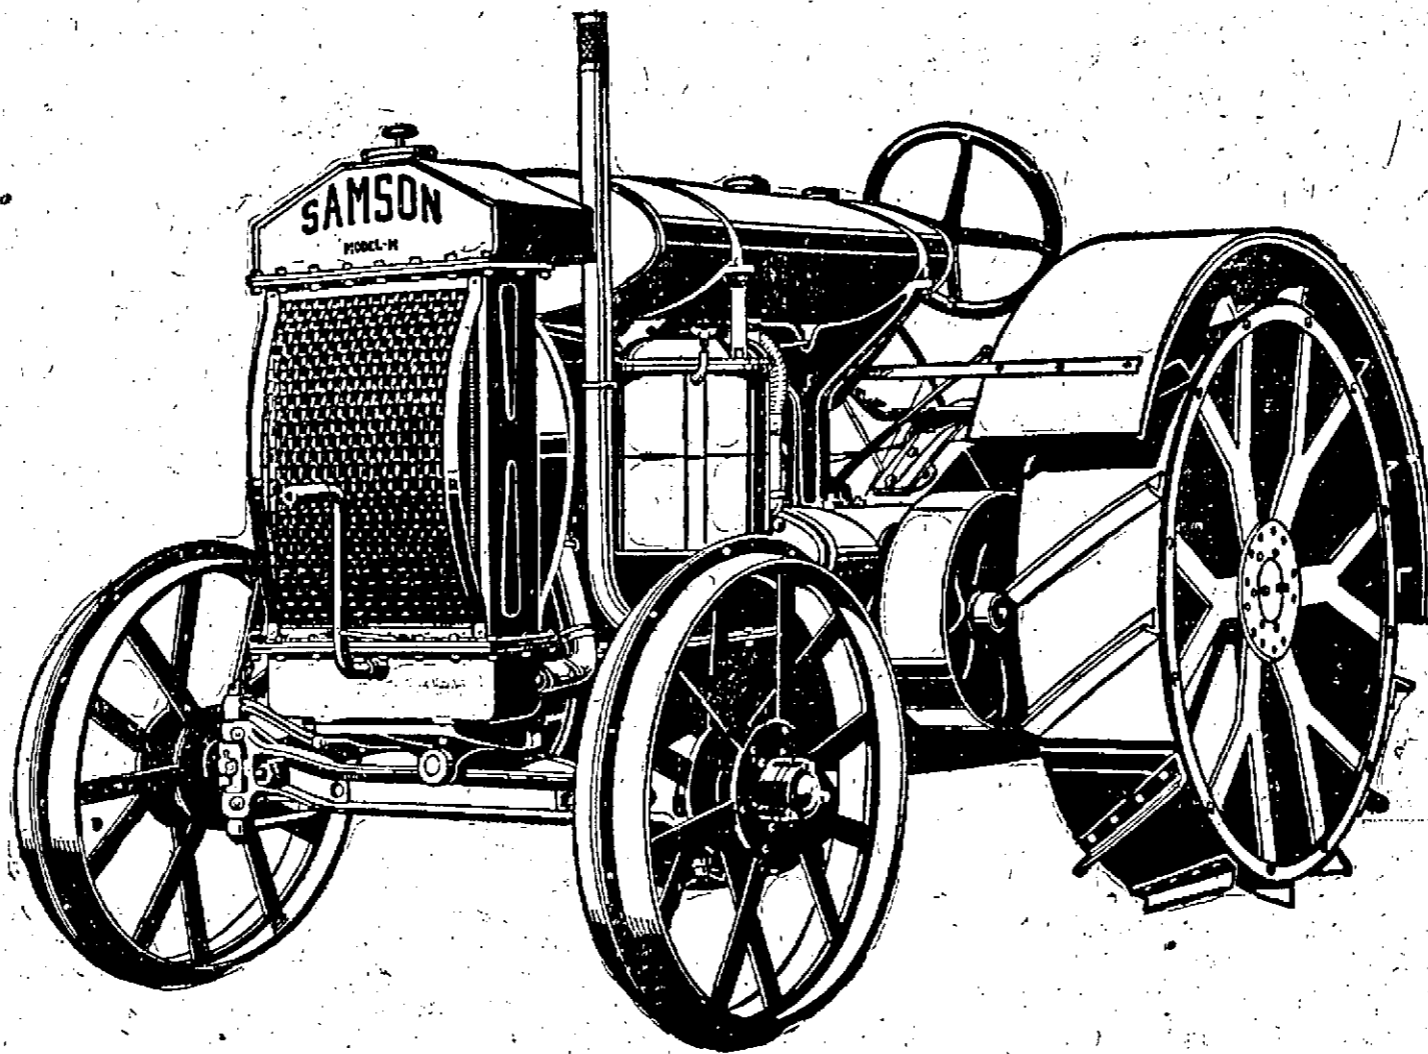

Unless the manufacturer keeps his factory running and takes his loss immediately, his men will be out of employment indefinitely. Men out of work will have no money to spend for farm produce and farm produce will go lower and lower.

This far-sighted policy of the Samson Tractor Company is going to give you an opportunity to buy a Samson Model "M" tractor at these unheard of prices in tractor manufacturing. Their loss is tremendous, but they want to help you put your farm back on a paying basis by giving you machinery at low prices.

The Samson Model "M" Tractor is the safest producing investment you can have. It is a tractor that will lower your cost of planting and harvesting crops so that you will be able to make good profit no matter what the market conditions may be. The Samson Tractor will save you time, do a better job of farming with less hard work to yourself, besides lowering your costs of raising food.

We have contracted for a number of these tractors at this price and that is all they will let us have.

We want to give you a demonstration of this tractor on your own farm under your own conditions. We want to show you just what it will do for you this Fall, next Spring and throughout the year. Now is the time that labor-saving, time and money-saving machinery will pay big returns on your investment.

The Samson Model "M" Tractor at this price is a wonder in power, utility and successful operation.

SAMSON POWER IMPLEMENTS

The Samson Power Plow and Samson Power Disc Harrow have always been in a class by themselves as far as quality and dependable work is concerned, and now with the new prices, there isn't a power implement on the market that can compare with them. Their strong, rugged construction plus their ability to penetrate the soil and turn it in an entirely satisfactory manner has never been surpassed. You will have wonderful results with the Samson Model "M" Tractor and Samson Implements. They were made for each other.

This Samson Model "15" is the Truck that gives you more actual hauling service for your money.

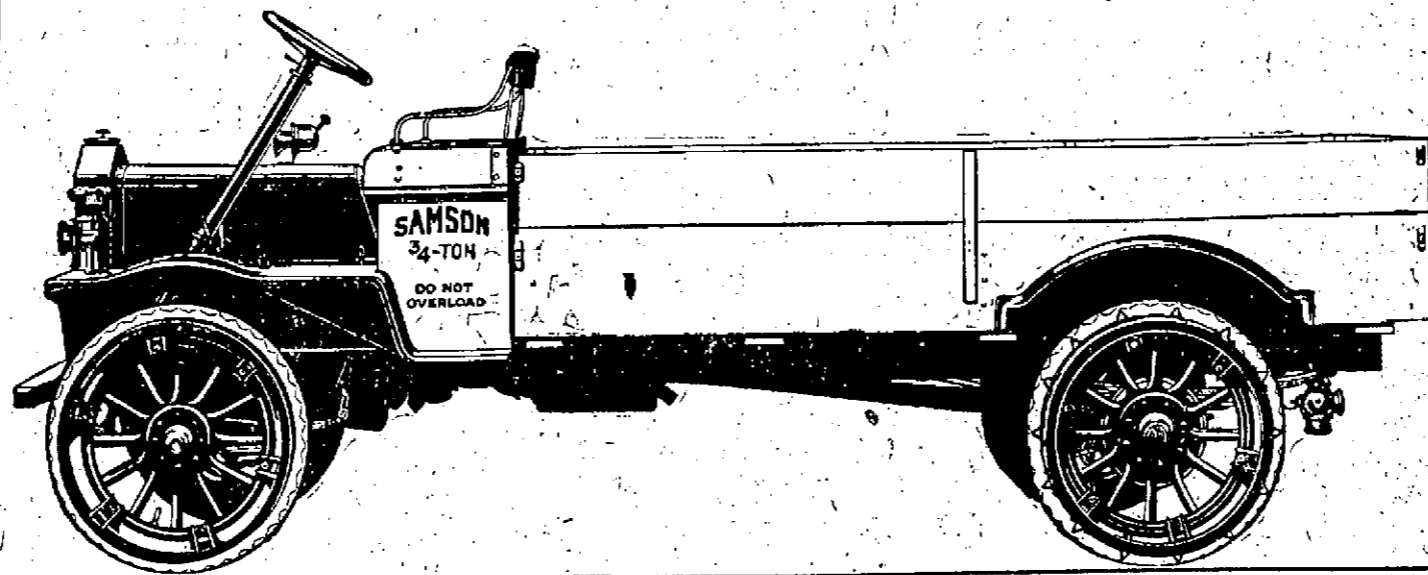

SAMSON MODEL "15" TRUCK

Samson Model "15" Truck with kerosene lamps at $700 is the Samson Tractor Company's means of doing their part to rejuvenate business. Once you see this truck in actual operation, you will be more than surprised at its wonderful pulling power on hillsides, over plowed fields and on muddy or sandy roads. You will realize the splendid results.

Its designers have given it a wonderful balance by placing the driver's seat far forward on the frame. This gives one-third more loading space and balances the load properly on all four wheels. The equal distribution of weight is a great saving on tires. The same size pneumatic tires are used on all four wheels.

Everything about this Model "15" Truck has, through careful tests and modifications, been made the simplest, most complete and dependable truck for splendid reliable service.

Remember, the special price of $700 is given to you only for a short time to rejuvenate business.

Good-bye Summer!

THE summer has no more than fairly started when Fashion with delightful feminine inconsistency turns to thoughts of Autumn clothes.

Fall is quite a way off, yet there is the girl to get ready for school, the suit to select that you didn't buy this Spring, and the one smart frock to find that you have promised yourself for oh! ever so long.

Early shoppers find here a veritable Rue de la Paix of fashions... smart... becoming... economical.

Here you will find a most comprehensive exhibit of what will be worn this Fall. Women's and Misses' Suits, Dresses, Coats, Blouses and accessories. Men's and Young Men's Suits, Fall Coats, Hats and Furnishings, and a complete showing of Shoes.

We cordially invite you to visit our store during Fair Week. Every courtesy will be shown you.

WAR DECLARED! AUGUST SALE! WAR DECLARED!

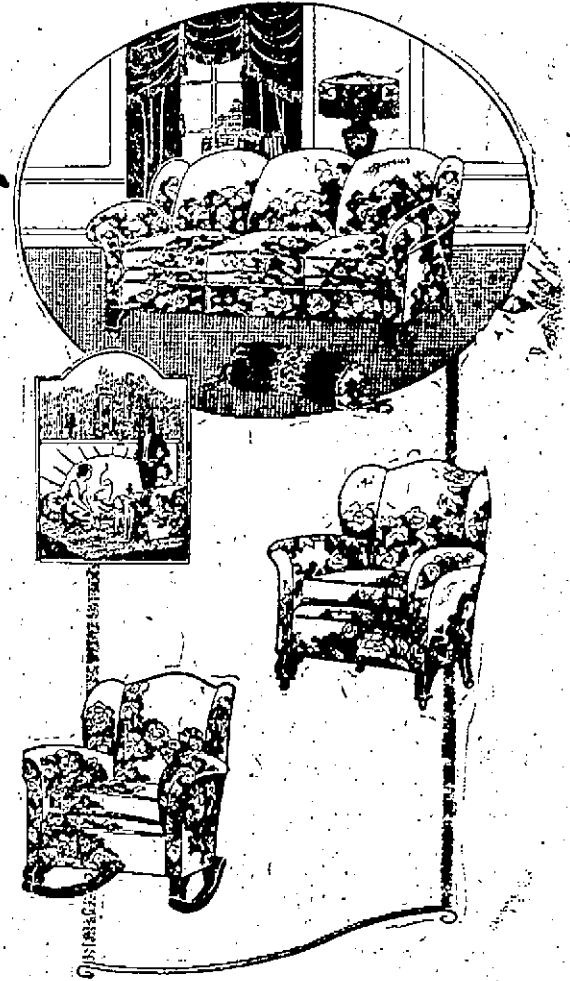

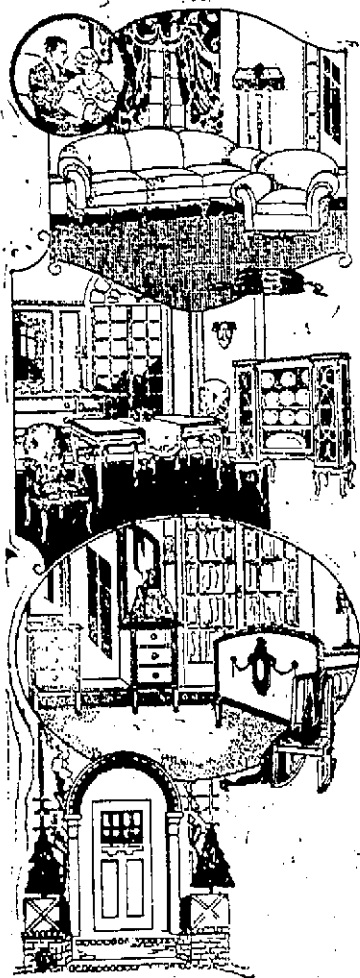

On August 14, 1914, WAR WAS DECLARED! But that war was as nothing compared to the war WE now declare on HIGH PRICES

In the great super-value giving SALE now running in our store, we are quoting prices on beautiful, dependable and up-to-date furniture that are simply amazing—prices lower than you can imagine until you come and see for yourself—prices that knock to smithereens all recent-year price standards.

For weeks we have been preparing for this SALE. We have flung our entire stock into it, with the grim determination to get our business back to a normal price basis, and do it quickly. Hundreds of the handsome pieces displayed were bought at war-inflated prices. Hundreds were bought at prices of a year ago. Hundreds of pieces were bought just recently.

But everything shown in our store—our entire stock—goes into this SALE, goes in at revolutionary low prices, and goes in with our guarantee of quality and satisfaction. If ever you want to further beautify your home, NOW IS THE TIME.

What Is Carbonated ICE CREAM?

Thousands of people are asking this question.

"Does it bubble like carbonated water?"

"How does it taste?"

"What does it do?"

First, the carbonating process is as important to Ice Cream as the pasteurizing process is to milk. It prevents the dangerous multiplication of bacteria. That is its job.

Second, it does not bubble nor change the nature of the Ice Cream in the slightest. It simply keeps out the ordinary air which so often is germ-laden and supplants it with an atmosphere a hundred times purer than air.

Third, it has no taste whatever. But it does so purify the Ice Cream as to bring out the flavors.

This makes Carbonated Ice Cream nicer than ordinary ice cream, of course.

But the better taste is not so important as the fact that carbonation is absolutely necessary to purity. And in Janesville and vicinity, you must look for the SHURTLEFF sign in your dealer's window. Because the SHURTLEFF ICE CREAM COMPANY is the only ice cream company in Janesville that uses this Carbonating Process.

It is always better to walk a few blocks and have the surety of purity in your Ice Cream.

ME

for the

BIG FAIR

Every Day!

It Strikes Me This Way

Really, now, it doesn't take much argument to convince me that the Fair is worth while. It's a home institution—for the direct benefit of this part of the country—gives me the chance to see what my neighbors and friends are accomplishing—if their methods are better than mine, to learn how it's done—to observe the new ideas and if they apply directly to me—how the other fellow succeeded where I failed—to get a line on the labor-saving, money-making short cuts—all these and more too. Me for the FAIR—every time.

Smart Details Vary the Straight Lines Characteristic of Fall Suits

THE distinctiveness of the New Fall Suits makes them a most important item of the Autumn wardrobe. A faultlessly tailored Suit is such a serviceable garment, the arbitrary costume of no particular time, yet correctly designed for most daytime occasions.

Fur Trimmed Suits

Pockets, panels, cuffs, chin and choker collars fashioned of Caracul, Broadtail or Squirrel are among the features which distinguish Fur Trimmed Suits as a most charming mode among the more dressy Fall Suits.

$40 to $98.00

Last year Suits of this quality sold from
$65.00 to $150.00

Smart Tailleurs

The Fall Tailleur follows long straight lines, but the degree of longitude varies in the Coats from the impertinent boxed kind, to finger tip length. In twills, velours and duvetyn, blues and browns hold highest favor.

PINK LEMONADE

HEIBEL'S BEVERAGES

People's tastes change as years go by. Pink lemonade had a great advertising value in connection with Fairs of past years, but not so today.

People are more careful what goes into their stomach today. Anything that was cold and wet had a chance in past days, but today, Fair visitors demand HEIBEL'S, because they know HEIBEL'S BEVERAGES are pure and healthful.

Be careful at the County Fair, and any place you may be for that matter, that you ask for HEIBEL'S, and see that you get it by turning the bottle around and finding the trade mark HEIBEL'S raised on the glass. Then drink it from the bottle through a straw. Nothing could be more sanitary and delightful.

THE RACES

THE RACING PROGRAM WILL BE A SPECIAL FEATURE AT JANESVILLE'S BIG FAIR AND LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION.

Janesville has long been noted for its famous speed contests, its excellent mile and half-mile race course and in the past the large entries of horses have given ample evidence of the fine tracks, service and courteous treatment accorded to all. Last year's race program was very complete, but this department is having more attention than in any year past and the speed program this year will be upon a scale much larger than ever before attempted. From the large number of entries being received the speed department will be taxed to the limit and the thousands who will daily attend this year's Fair will be given opportunity of witnessing the best races ever held in this section of the country. Our fine big amphitheatre and bleachers, flag bedecked and banners bobbing in the breeze, with its excellent view, helps to make this one of the best features of the fair.

Exhibits and Entertainments Unsurpassed!

THE WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT will have an especially attractive display of Pastry, Preserves, Pickles, Canned Goods, Needle Work and Art Productions.

The Floral and Domestic Hall will be a scene of varied beauty and wonder and fully representative of woman's genius and thrift. There will be many rich and choice specimens of woman's industry and handwork, such as:

Textile Fabrics, Knitting, Crocheting and Fancy WORK

The latest styles, the most costly and laborious, the handsomest and the most elegant masterpieces of creative and decorative skill and art in needlework. There will be an attractive exhibit in the line of Drawings, Paintings, Etchings, Sculpture, Carving and Bric-a-Brac, as well as a multitude of other exquisite items of ancient and modern fine art, antiques, and odd and valuable relics, heirlooms, keepsakes and curiosities.

Flowers, Plants, Fragrant Bouquets, Floral Ornaments and designs will also be classed herein, and with them many other inviting features.

Women's Part in the Fair

Women's industry and handwork will help in many ways to produce articles that are important to the success of a Fair. A department of the fair set apart for her productions, was a wise thought, as it enables the public to get a glimpse of the assembled products of her skill, and lets the world know more of her genius, her tastes and prowess.

Proceeding from this viewpoint we aim to have this fair, among other things, an exhibition of woman's products in which woman is interested, and one which will represent, in no small degree, her labor and patience.

We wish to have this department grandly filled and invite a large contribution. Let every lady in this community bring one article, at least, and place it upon exhibition.

A Veritable Ladies' Bazaar

Representing her genius and thrift, Sewing, Knitting, Crochet, Fancy Work, Textile Fabrics, Garments, etc.

The latest styles, the richest materials and the most elegant masterpieces of creative and decorative skill and art in needlework.

The Hall will be presided over by competent, careful and obliging superintendents. Unusual pains will be taken to trim and decorate it with artistic skill, to embellish it with uncommonly rich and beautiful adornments, thus, it is possible to add to the natural elegance of such an exhibition, the splendor of a fascinating finish and superiority.

Thursday, Aug. 11th, 1921

Will be "Boys' and Girls' Club Day" at Janesville's Big Fair.

Let Your Children Attend Janesville's Big Fair

Tractors Will Be On Exhibit at Janesville's Fair

Plans are being made for a Tractor Demonstration in connection with Janesville's Big Fair and Live Stock Exposition, as extensive as space within the fair ground and suitable for demonstrations, will permit.

Wisconsin has nearly 200,000 farms of all sizes and the thousands of farmers engaged in agriculture now are more than ever interested vitally in machinery and other equipment that will relieve the shortage of labor on the farm, and in other ways reduce cost of production.

With the speeding up of production, the farmer must obtain means by which his work may be done. Shortage of help compels him to look for relief in machinery, and especially to manufacturers of tractors.

Farmers are more than ever interested in machinery and other industrial displays, and the Tractor Demonstration, which will be one of the features of the 1921 Fair, should prove of great value to all who see it, consequently Janesville's Big Fair and Live Stock Exposition will aim to bring together as many makes of tractors and present as extensive demonstrations as space will permit.

Perform Every Stunt Known.

A Good Time to Renew Old Acquaintances.

at the Fair—one day at least. The press and public unite in saying that this fair has been tried and always found true to every test. Complete with innocent amusement, entertaining features, delightful pastime, instructive departments from beginning to end.

The Machinery Department.

Will abound in representative exhibits embracing all kinds of Machinery, Tools, Implements and Utensils of Husbandry, such as Plows, Harrows, Drills, Planters, Mowers, Reapers, Rakes, Binders, Threshers, Engines, Tractors, Carriages, Wagons and other Vehicles as well as Dairy Appliances and Barn Equipment.

The farm implement and machinery manufacturers realize that their products must possess merit if they are to be sold and in order to demonstrate the worth of these products to the actual purchaser, a very large number of manufacturers and dealers will exhibit at Janesville's Big Fair and Live Stock Exposition, where the thousands of people attending the Fair may inspect them.

Automobile Department.

One of the innovations at Janesville's Big Fair and Live Stock Exposition will be the Automobile Exhibit. The management will make the Automobile Exhibit an important part of the fair's attraction and will stage an exhibition of motor vehicles, accessories, tires, trailers, etc., in a picturesque and spectacular setting. Music and special entertainment will be included in the auto show program. Owners and prospective buyers of automobiles should remember that Janesville's Big Fair and Live Stock Exposition auto show will introduce many of the first models for 1922 and the fine display in this department will surely create considerable interest among Fair visitors.

Ample Accommodations.

The Association's facilities for the accommodation of visitors and exhibitors are unsurpassed. (The grounds, stables, sheds, amphitheatres, halls, track, and all other appointments are ample to secure the most manifold comfort and convenience.

The preparations for the entertainment and enjoyment of the patrons of Janesville's Big Fair this year are more extensive than any before and cannot fail to please and delight all.

Men's and Young Men's Suits for Fall

YOU get a good deal more out of one of these new Fall Suits than just having a suit that is "new." There is a little difference in the lapels, in the lines, in the patterns and colorings—and all that means a change.

Suits for Everybody

Very fine domestic and imported fabrics have been put into these suits; a very high type of tailoring has been put into them; every detail has been finished in an expert thorough manner. Styles for men and young men—for everybody. The brown tones are the big favorites. A great big variety to choose from.

Women's Fall Here is a Style
 Oxfords Change in Arrive Men's Fall
 Oxfords

The smartest street models for women this Fall will be welt oxfords to be worn with wool hose and later with spats. The blucher Oxford, or a mannish last with the French squared toe is very swagger. And an excellently fitting model is the three strap Oxford with harness buckles.

If you have tired of heavy brogues, all-over perforations, ball straps and all such extreme features you are going to like the trim conservatism that characterizes our Fall Oxfords. Norwegian grain leather in Black and light Tans with varied stitching effects makes snappy Oxfords to wear during the early weeks of Fall—and all winter long with wool hose.
